THE POLICY OF LAND GRANTS.

The following article is taken from the Manitoba Free Press:

This problem of peopling the Northwest is full of difficulties. Mr. Charlton raised what would appear to have been an animated debate in the House a few days ago by moving for a return of all lands granted in the Northwest in aid of railways. The discussion which followed showed how perplexing it would be to know what is best to do. Most of the speakers, who were of the Opposition, by the way, maintained that the Government had been reckless in its generosity, granting lands right and left as fast as asked for, thus tying them up and hindering settlement. But how can we have settlement without railways? The experience of Manitoba is that the roads must come first. The position of affairs would seem to be this: We cannot have settlement without railways; we cannot have railways without land grants; grants to railways tie up the lands and prevent settlement. This brings us to a dead stop. Perhaps the best thing to do would be to leave the Northwest alone; grant no lands, build no railways, and have no settlement—that is, settlement artificial, encouraged. If settlers choose to come, well and good; if not, well and good; if philanthropists come in and build railways out of their own pockets, well and good; if there shall be no railways, again well and good. Let us sit down and take things as they come, in that good, old, happy go lucky sort of way.

If not this, then it must be something nearly approaching what the Government has adopted as its policy. A company is formed and applies for a charter, with a land grant. The Government nor Parliament can always tell whether the company is as good as its word. If it shall build the road as agreed the benefit to the country will be well worth the land grant; if it shall fail, there is no land grant. It is a mistake to suppose that the land is tied up before it is earned, and it is not earned until the road is built. Until definitely appropriated to the completion of sections of the road it is open to homestead settlement; in fact, it is never withdrawn from settlement until the price in the shape of a completed road is paid down for it. There are supposed to be millions of acres granted to roads not yet built, but it is a fact often lost sight of that every foot of that land is as open to homesteading as any other. There is consequently no harm done by the grants, unless it be held that it is a mistake to earn them by building the railways. We in the Northwest will not subscribe to that belief. It is quite possible that grants have been made to roads that would have been, or might have been, built without them, but as a rule the road is worth the land grant, and the public advantage is cheaply purchased at the price.

To say that settlement is hindered by giving these tracts of land to railway companies is another stupid mistake. Practically there are but two companies in the Northwest having land grants, the C. P. R. and the Manitoba and Northwestern. The C. P. R. is bringing in more immigrants than the Dominion and Manitoba Governments combined; it is by all odds the most valuable immigration agency in the Dominion. And it is active because it has these lands to settle. The Northwestern company is doing less, of course, because it is a smaller company; but its contribution to the immigration of these past four years is known to have been very large. In proportion to its abilities we do not hesitate to say that it is doing more to people the country than either of the Governments mentioned. It is therefore, the exact opposite of the truth to say the settlement is hindered by these grants.

What other objection is there? It was not mentioned in the debate, but it may possibly be held that an injustice is done to the Canadian people, inasmuch as the companies charge a price for their lands whereas in the hands of the Government they are free. The average settler will cheerfully pay that price, which is a bagatelle at most considering the liberal terms, if he is given railway accommodation in addition to his land. There is no hardship in this; on the contrary, it is accepted by the sensible settler as a very material blessing. The fact is, some of our members of Parliament are in the habit of talking about things they don't understand, and this is one of them.

Every Northwest paper that comes to hand just now is full of records of the arrival of immigrants in that vast prairie country. Especially is this the case in the more northern Prince Albert and Edmonton regions. Even a bilious Grit must recognize that a greater Canada is being established on sure and firm foundations in that western country. The older provinces have made sacrifices for the opening up and settlement of that territory, but under our national system it will all come back to the industries and homes of the mechanics and tradesmen of the east and will eventually come back an hundred fold.—World.

By the death of Lord Bramwell the House of Lords loses one of its most sagacious members. He was for years one of the ornaments of the British judiciary, and retiring from the bench in 1881 was created a peer. Since then, despite his advanced years—he dies at the age of 84—Lord Bramwell took a prominent part in the debates of parliament, where his practical knowledge and sound judgment were greatly valued. In all public controversies in the press and elsewhere, Lord Bramwell has been a participant under the signature of "B." He was a brother of Sir Frederick Bramwell, the eminent scientist.

THE C. P. R. ANNUAL REPORT.

The continued expansion of the earnings of the Canadian Pacific company is the marvel of the times in this country. When the road was first proposed it was thought by most that for many years it would not pay for the ex'penses to operate it; and as for returning a dividend on the capital invested, the idea was regarded as preposterous. The Government gave the company ten years to build it, and no doubt quite expected at the time to be asked to extend the period at least half as much again. It was completed in five years; and now, in 1892, the year originally fixed for its completion, and when the most sanguine thought it barely possible that the company would be able to equip it from end to end and manage a through train now and then, of course at a great loss, it is making gross earnings of upwards of twenty millions a year, with a net revenue of upwards of eight millions. It is paying all the fixed charges, a handsome dividend on the share capital, and adding to a reserve that now amounts to nearly five millions of dollars. This is the marvellous showing of a corporation that ten years ago was not expected to have its road in operation by this time; indeed, it was freely predicted that the members of the syndicate who took hold of the undertaking would never operate it, but after making what they could out of construction would then abandon the enterprise as a white elephant, which the Government could feed or not as it pleased. As a confounder of predictions there has been nothing in this country those many generations to rival the C. P. R.

Two or three points in the report are of special local interest. The land sales last year were not largely in excess of those of 1891, although considering the circumstances the increase was satisfactory. But already this year the sales exceed by 47,000 acres the total for 1891, showing that the Northwest is more than recovering its popularity, and is making a tremendous step onward.—Winnipeg Free Press.

WORLD'S FAIR PLANS.

Ottawa, May 12.—Executive commissioner for Canada, Professor Saunders, has returned from Chicago, where he made arrangements regarding the exhibit of live stock and horses from the Dominion at the world's fair. The limit of the number of animals for which the exhibition authorities provide has been increased beyond what was at first awarded, horses, from 75 to 100; cattle, from 125 to 200, the number of sheep to 200 and swine to 125. In poultry all the space required will be given and a sufficient area will be reserved for Canadian dogs during the dog show. With regard to the arrangement of stock at the time of the exhibition, the number of sheep and swine to be placed in a single pen will be decided by the exhibition authorities. A new edition of the prize list and dates for showing stock is now being prepared, and will be issued in the course of a fortnight. Following are the date which it is expected, will be definitely settled on: For horses and cattle, from August 21st to September 21st, inclusive; sheep and swine, from September 21st to October 14th, inclusive; poultry from October 16th to October 28th inclusive. Fat stock will be shown on the same dates as poultry. The dogs are to be shown from June 12th to June 17th, inclusive. With regard to this question of pedigrees the commissioner ascertained that the exhibition authorities accept all pedigrees which are accepted or recognized in the best books of Canada. It is expected that the United States government will admit pure bred animals for exhibition purposes, duty free.

A CHOLERA SCARE.

London, May 12.—There is some reason to fear another extensive cholera scare this summer. Great precautions are being taken in view of the apprehended danger, to put all possible obstacles in the way of the westward spread of the scourge from its breeding place in the Orient. At the request of the various European governments the authorities of Egypt are exercising unusual vigilance to prevent that country being traversed by the disease. Experts say that as a result of careful study of the subject it has been found that cholera travels along two distinct lines in its advance upon Europe. The first course is across India, Afghanistan and Asiatic Russia. It is believed by those who have been investigating the matter that the disease is now raging in the latter country. The fact is carefully concealed from the public, but it is known in official circles that a special commission has been appointed by Russia to inquire what is best to be done in the premises. The second route of the dread malarial is by way of Persia, Arabia and the Red Sea ports. Today's mail from Aden brings information that leaves no doubt of the prevalence of the disease along this line of travel. It is epidemic in the interior of Arabia, and frightful accounts of its ravages come from that region. Hundreds are dying daily from this cause. At Harar, where thousands have died, the epidemic is now abating. Fugitives from the stricken district arriving at the coast estimate the mortality at 15,000 during the past fortnight. Commerce is paralyzed and no caravans have arrived from the interior since the middle of April. The deadly effects of the disease are said to be unparalleled.

A FIRM STAND TAKEN.

London, May 12.—In the house of commons this evening Francis Henry Evans, Liberal for Southampton, inquired whether the letters which had passed between the government and Newfoundland respecting the proposed convention between the United States and Newfoundland would be tabled. Baronde Worms, parliamentary secretary of the colonial office, replied that the matter would be acted on as soon as the interests of the service would permit. Mr. Evans then asked: "Have the government declined to assent to the convention?" "Yes sir," answered Mr. Lockhart parliamentary secretary of the foreign office, "the government have been unable to depart from their position and negotiate the convention in question. Newfoundland must proceed, pari passu, to negotiate for arranging the treaty between Canada and the United States."

THE NORTH HAVEN ELECTION.

London, May 12.—Great interest was felt in the election held yesterday in North Haven to fill the seat in parliament of the late Sir Lewis Pelly. The election was regarded as a test of political feeling in the whole of London. There are eleven thousand parliamentary voters of whom three thousand, mostly workmen, are new accessions during the past six years. The Liberal candidate was Mr. T. Arrowsmith Meates. In his address he announced himself in favor of entrusting to a statutory Irish Parliament the management of affairs exclusively Irish, subject to the supremacy of the Imperial parliament. He also instanced many reforms which he favored. Conservatives first tried to induce the lord mayor to accept a nomination, but he expressed his inability to accede to the request as he had determined to steer clear of politics while retaining the office of chief magistrate. The Conservatives settled at last upon Mr. W. R. Bousfield, Q. C. Mr. Bousfield is a pronounced Conservative and an uncompromising adherent to Lord Salisbury's views. The election resulted in the choice of Mr. Bousfield by a vote of 4,330 to 3,491 for Mr. Meates, or by a majority of 939, against a majority of 1,501 in 1886 for Lewis Pelly, then the Conservative candidate.

We regret to hear that our old and genial friend Mr. H. McClenahan, of Duck Lake, took his departure for his old home at Woodstock, Ont., on Monday last. The residents of Duck Lake have lost a good citizen, to whom we wish the best of luck wherever he may go.

We have just received a copy of the Patti Waltz Tyrolienne, composed by Charlie Baker. It is simple and remarkably pretty, can be played on piano or organ. The title page contains an elegant photo of "Adeline Patti" the world renowned songstress in stage costume. Price 40 cents per copy. To readers of this paper a copy will be sent upon receipt of 20 cents in silver or postage stamps by addressing the publisher, Baker & Helmeck, 265 Sixth Avenue, New York.

HER MAJESTY'S BIRTHDAY.

The birthday of Her Majesty will be celebrated in Prince Albert by several interesting events. In the morning cricket and ball games will be played in various parts of the town and district. At 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon a series of pony races, horse races, and trotting races will be contested on the Prince Albert race course. In the evening a great treat is in store for the citizens of Prince Albert, and the surrounding district, when a grand entertainment commencing at 8 o'clock, will be given on an elevated stage in the Saskatchewan Curling Rink, consisting of glee, choruses, songs, recitations, physical training exercises, and concluding with a grand musical drill parade directed by Constable Case of the N. W. M. P.

JOE HESS.

The great and renowned temperance evangelist, Joe Hess, began his labors in Prince Albert on Sunday in the Presbyterian church. Mr. Hess is a fluent, easy and forcible speaker, and just tainted enough of the faderland to disclose his nationality. His addresses are characteristic for their originality, their point edness and their effect upon the audience. The lecturer always shoots straight from the shoulder and the results of his arrows are only shown from the large number—not temperance people—who went forward and signed the pledge. On Sunday, Mr. Hess gave three addresses. At his afternoon address his subject was "One man Power," which he delivered with great force and ability, showing the wonderful influence that one man or one woman may wield either for good or evil. On Monday evening before a crowded house he gave a brief sketch of his life up to the time of his conversion showing that a father's example upon a son may lead to his elevation or his destruction. His degraded life and neglected home through the influence of liquor dished out by licensed houses, is a picture of hundreds, yea thousands of desolate homes, heartbroken wives and degraded families that are found throughout our country. He denounced the moderate drinker as the great enemy to the young and rising mindhood in our midst. On Tuesday evening he spoke on "Destruction and Reconstruction," and illustrating his lecture by an object lesson. He took from his waistcoat pocket three small bottles, one of these contained a dark liquid, which he said liquor dealers used for coloring liquor, that it was poison, and that a few drops would kill a man. He poured the contents of this into a glass of water which immediately became a dark red color, this he said was the effect of the license system. He then poured the contents of a second bottle which he called prohibition into it and which affected it but slightly. He then poured the contents of the third bottle which he called the gospel, into it. The water again became clear, but left a sediment, "the harm that had been done," He will give his last address to night, subject—Why I became a Prohibitionist.
